A Class for the Whole Family!

Off the Mat creates the opportunity for you to further your child's development in the martial arts and in life. Take the skills that they are learning in the dojo and translate them to where they matter most. Home. School. At a friend's house. Out in the world.

Off the Mat Classes are held once a month on Friday evenings 5:45-6:30pm.

Character Based Collectible Trading Cards

Martial artists are like walking, talking superheroes. Power cards link martial arts skills to the cornerstones of character development: practicing self control, respect for others, and self discipline. The kids want the cards, but they have to successfully complete the mission on the back before receiving the next card. Keeping their room clean. Not interrupting when someone is talking. Thanking you for bringing them to class. These are their missions, and the doorway to responsible adulthood.

21st Century Learning Program

Students will have the ability to learn their forms and combinations from their instructors at home in small, easy to digest pieces through online videos. This will allow them to not only learn at their own pace, but also review material that they may have forgotten as they move from rank to rank. When they come to class, they will be better prepared to both refine and deepen their understanding of their material in the presence of their instructors.
